

PHYS 331 presentation rubric – page 1

	Exemplary (10)	Proficient (7.5)	Fair (5)	Poor (1)
Organization 15%	Information presented in a logical, interesting sequence which the audience can follow.	Information presented in a logical sequence which the audience can follow.	Audience has difficulty following the presentation because it jumps from one topic to another.	Audience cannot understand presentation because there is no sequence of information.
Slide Quality 10%	Slide layout neat, easy to follow, and the material relates directly to the content delivered by the speaker.	Slide layout is neat and the material displayed usually relates directly to the content delivered by the speaker.	At times the slide layout is hard to follow or presents too much information.	The slides are disorganized and do not help the audience understand or follow the presentation.
Graphics 10%	Graphics explain and reinforce screen text and presentation.	Graphics relate to text and presentation.	Graphics rarely support the text and presentation.	Superfluous graphics or no graphics.
Subject Knowledge 25%	Presenters demonstrate full knowledge of the subject (more than required). Presenters answer all audience questions with explanations and elaboration.	Presenters are comfortable with the material and give reasonable answers to audience questions, but do not elaborate.	Presenters are uncomfortable with the subject material and are only able to answer rudimentary questions.	Presenters do not have a grasp of the material. Presenters cannot answer basic questions.

PHYS 331 presentation rubric – page 2

Presenter 1:

	Exemplary (10)	Proficient (7.5)	Fair (5)	Poor (1)
Eye Contact 15%	Presenter maintains eye contact with audience, seldom returning to notes or reading the slides.	Presenter maintains eye contact most of the time but frequently returns to notes or the slides.	Presenter occasionally uses eye contact, but still reads from notes or reads the slides.	Presenter continuously reads from notes or reads the slides.
Elocution 15%	Presenter uses a clear voice and correct, precise pronunciation of terms so that all audience members can clearly hear.	Presenter's voice is clear. Presenter pronounces most words correctly. Most audience members can hear presentation.	Presenter's voice is low. Terms are pronounced incorrectly. Audience members have difficulty hearing.	Presenter mumbles, incorrectly pronounces terms, and speaks too quietly for some audience members to hear.

Presenter 2: (if applicable)

	Exemplary (10)	Proficient (7.5)	Fair (5)	Poor (1)
Eye Contact 15%	Presenter maintains eye contact with audience, seldom returning to notes or reading the slides.	Presenter maintains eye contact most of the time but frequently returns to notes or the slides.	Presenter occasionally uses eye contact, but still reads from notes or reads the slides.	Presenter continuously reads from notes or reads the slides.
Elocution 15%	Presenter uses a clear voice and correct, precise pronunciation of terms so that all audience members can clearly hear.	Presenter's voice is clear. Presenter pronounces most words correctly. Most audience members can hear presentation.	Presenter's voice is low. Terms are pronounced incorrectly. Audience members have difficulty hearing.	Presenter mumbles, incorrectly pronounces terms, and speaks too quietly for some audience members to hear.

Each presenter will be graded on the six categories listed above. If presenting as a pair, the group will receive the same marks for the first four categories listed on the first page. However, each presenter will receive individual grades for the two categories listed on this page.

The six categories sum to a total of 90 possible marks. The 8 of remaining 10 marks will be assigned based on attendance. There will be a total of four presentation sessions. You will receive 2 marks for each session that you attend. The final 2 marks will be awarded to you if you email me your slides before noon on the day of your scheduled presentation.